

Elections

Colorado was a bright spot for the nation for pro-conservation wins in the 2022 midterm elections. Conservation Colorado is proud to have played a key role with our partners in delivering sweeping victories for the state's pro-conservation leaders.

- ✓ Expanding the pro-conservation majorities in the state Senate and state House to the largest ever.
- ✓ First time in modern history for a clean sweep re-election of the state's pro-conservation Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, and State Treasurer.
- ✓ Election of the first Latina representing Colorado in Congress, Yadira Caraveo; the first Latina representing the western slope at the state legislature, Elizabeth Velasco; and the first Black woman elected to Arapahoe County Commission, Leslie Summey.

Voters have yet again made clear they expect candidates and elected officials to take bold action to protect our climate, air, land, water and communities across the state. Conservation Colorado looks forward to working with elected officials to continue the pro-conservation leadership Coloradans expect.
